Bootcamp Initiation – putting training into action

3 AMAZING WEEKS IN TANZANIA

After 3 months of intensive training in evangelism at our CfaN headquarters in Orlando, Florida, over 90 Evangelism Bootcamp students recently packed their bags and headed to Tanzania in East Africa. This was the Bootcamp Initiation trip, the real-world test of all the training they'd received.

During Bootcamp, the students learnt how to preach a Gospel sermon and pray for the sick, how to pack a suitcase, how to deal with cultural differences, how to ground themselves in prayer and worship – and so much more. After class and on the weekends, they put their growing skills into action, conducting daily outreaches in malls and on the streets. When it was time to leave for Tanzania, the atmosphere was electric with excitement and anticipation.

Once they landed, teams were sent to different towns to immediately start doing outreaches, saturating each town in the Gospel. At the same time, they were preparing for a final Gospel Campaign in each city, working together with the local churches. They began the preparations whilst still in Florida, but there was still much to do on the ground – preaching in local congregations, training up local counselors and ushers, finalizing permits and more. These town campaigns are just like the larger events that CfaN puts on.

"Not today, devil!"

The day started a little rocky. Wet weather made the roads a slippery mess. Our minivan struggled to gain traction as it lurched down the road to the location for the Kids' Outreach. The driver struggled to understand our team captain. The GPS struggled to find our position. The enemy was making an all-out assault to prevent children from hearing the Gospel. We prayed and let the devil know: "Not today!"

The first outreach went well. We saw many children reach their hands in the air for salvation and to receive the Holy Spirit. After the prayer of salvation, the song "One Way Jesus" rang through the hills of Tanzania! Children lined up to receive their copy of "What's Next?" (follow-up literature for children). We had the opportunity to pray for several deaf children. We were also able to share with several of the adults and asked them to continue to disciple the children...The Holy Spirit protected and empowered us today to preach the Gospel in the middle of bad weather, muddy roads, and the Muslim holiday of Ramadan. We packed our gear and lurched out on the muddy roads once again to go and preach the Gospel.

"Something told me to stop and listen"

"I was going to go to the witch doctor, but something told me to stop and listen"... His life was a mess. He told me that it seemed like he was going nowhere. That every time he took a step forward, it seemed he had to take ten steps back. He was depressed and felt as if he had nowhere to go, and he did not know what to do. He said, "I was so depressed that I was thinking what to do... By tomorrow I wanted to go the village to consult a medium." But God had other plans for him. He sat down in the park where we were preaching and felt something telling him to pay attention. Then he heard it, the words of God hitting him in the heart. He told us later,

"The pastor, I felt like he was talking about me." Then the altar call went up, and this precious man stood and went to the front. He said, "I felt like an invisible man was standing beside me whispering into my ear, saying, 'What are you waiting for?' Precious Green gave his heart to the Lord that day and received the Holy Spirit. It was such an amazing experience to see God touch him in such a great way... This is the power of our saving Jesus, the one who will leave the ninety-nine to go after the one!"

Set free and saved from suicidal thoughts!

There was a man who gave his life to Jesus and stayed around for the healing prayer. After the meeting, we were able to talk to him, and he told the team that the previous night he was going to commit suicide. He battled with depression and heard the Gospel being preached and gave his life to Jesus! He was immediately delivered and no longer wanted to kill himself. Hallelujah!

The Fatherhood of God touched her heart and healed her

Today, I had the opportunity to minister to a woman who was tormented for over eight years from unclean spirits. She first repented of her sins and received the gift of salvation. Afterward, the Lord revealed that the open door to the demons was the spirit of rejection. We broke the curses and delivered her from the spirit of rejection. The Fatherhood of God touched her heart and healed her from the wounds of rejection and abandonment. She had a beautiful smile come upon her face. She was delivered and set free. Praise God! She then wanted her Mom to be set free. We got into the car and drove to her house. While there, her Mom, along with four others called upon the Lord. Her daughter was healed from mental illness, she was healed of ulcers, and we prayed for all of them to be baptized in the Holy Spirit. A man who had come up to join them was also saved and filled with the Holy Spirit. He was visibly touched by the power of God. I praise the Lord for all He has done!

Only by the grace of God

It has been an absolute joy to labor side by side with incredible evangelists, leaders and local pastors, interpreters, ushers and dancers. My heart leaps to be here in Tanzania! My love for this country and people grows daily and every day that goes by I realize how as we surrender our lives more to Jesus, it becomes more and more impossible to do anything without the grace and strength of God. If I were to stop seeking the Lord and stop trusting Him, everything would crumble away. It is only by the utter grace, mercy and love of God that any of this is possible. I speak the following from a personal point of view, but I know my fellow Bootcamp evangelists have witnessed Jesus do the same incredible things across Tanzania through their lives. Each day I have preached to hundreds and sometimes thousands of people at a time. Each day I have seen hands go up to receive salvation, each day I have seen miraculous healings - the lame walk, the blind see, and pain that lasted years completely healed.

The whole village prayed

One day when I preached on healing in a village, a man came forward to testify that he was healed! However, something must have been missed in translation as he spoke a tribal language, not Swahili. I had to get another translator to translate from Swahili. Then he said he was not yet healed and needed prayer. He was already on stage, so I had the entire village stretch out their hands towards him as I prayed and broke that infirmity from his body in Jesus' name. His knees were healed instantly, and he was bending down doing squats on stage! It was wild!

"I saw Jesus entering me"

After I had finished preaching at one of our Gospel Truck outreaches, a man came up to me and kept holding on to my hand and didn't want to let go. I could tell something was wrong and that he wanted something, but it was hard to understand him as he was only mumbling some words. I was then told he had a drug addiction, so I commanded that spirit to leave him. At first, he kept trying to look away from me while I prayed for him, but after a few seconds his countenance completely changed, and he smiled from ear to ear. I asked him what happened, and he said: "I saw Jesus entering me and I felt something leave me"

The vision is becoming reality

We are overjoyed at the wonderful success of this Bootcamp Initiation trip. It's inspiring and motivating to see the passion and dedication of these freshly minted evangelists as they pour themselves out for the Gospel. We've seen the investment into their lives pay out the greatest possible dividend – hundreds of thousands of people giving their lives to Jesus.

But of course, this is not an ending. It's just the beginning! The next Cfan Evangelism Bootcamp with over 140 new students will take place this Fall. The Decade of Double Harvest vision that God placed in our hearts is becoming reality before our very eyes.

Will you join us in equipping this new generation of evangelists?
