DANGERS, TOILS AND SNARES

written by Evangelist
Daniel Kolenda

What a wonderful way to end our year at Christ for all Nations!

Our last Flagship Gospel Campaign of 2022 took place in Kumasi, Ghana in November. The road to get there was fraught with many dangers, toils, and snares. In fact, it was miraculous that we were able to conduct the event – and then have such excellent results.

One of the biggest challenges we had was with the campaign field. There was simply no place in Kumasi large enough to hold the massive crowd that we were expecting – except for one. It's a 29-acre field (the equivalent of 22 American football fields) in the center of Kumasi, but it was considered a "sacred" ground and was initially off-limits. The major reason for the opposition was that this field had never been leveled or prepared for a mass gathering (even though it's in the center of the city), and there was an eleventh-hour reluctance to allow it. Furthermore, it is the center of the Ashanti kingdom, one the largest kingdoms in Africa, reaching far beyond Ghana. For centuries, this has been the traditional venue for spiritism and animistic witchcraft practices.

But, thank the Lord, the current king, and many others, did want it to be used for other purposes (like our campaign). And after extensive deliberations and negotiations, we prevailed.

Our campaign director John Darku said:

"When the bulldozers arrived to prepare the field, the caretaker, a practicing witchdoctor, called the police, and a long standoff took place. After further negotiations, they finally agreed for the work to proceed... as long as we erected four pedestrian bridges across their 'holy stream.'"

RIISING TO THE CHALLENGE

Another problem we faced was getting our eight trucks filled with equipment (speakers, sound equipment, lights, platform, etc.) across three international borders. At one of the borders, our team was stranded for nearly 10 days. This means they only arrived on the Monday of the campaign week, forcing them to compress five days' worth of setup into two! The team looked exhausted that first night, but they pulled off the Herculean feat. This is why they are the best on the planet. Where others would give up and go home, they rise to the challenge and do the impossible.

We also had more than 120 Bootcamp students there for nearly three weeks completing their training, what we call their "Initiation".

In less than three weeks, they conducted 2,862 outreaches and saw 350,693 documented decisions for Christ! And that was before the campaign even started!

Right before it was time to pray for the sick, lightning began flashing in the distance, and rain began to pour on the field. The vast majority of the people never moved. I prayed for the sick and took testimonies in the pouring rain.

Initiation

A powerful time of ministry and impartation...

On the final day of the Fire Conference, the Bootcamp students laid hands on thousands of pastors and church leaders, blessing them and sending them out with Holy Spirit fire.

Rev. Peter Vandenberg
(CfaN Vice-President) has preached to over 3 million church leaders in Fire Conferences over the past four decades!

Fire Conferences happen during the mornings of a CfaN Gospel Campaign. Thousands of bishops, pastors and church leaders receive teaching and exhortation.

On the second night, we heard from a woman who came to the campaign on the first night with a growth on her leg, which had vanished. She brought pictures of the way her foot looked the night before, and we were able to compare it. It looked like a totally different foot. In fact, the shoes she was wearing the night before no longer fit her at all.

Multiplication

As I'm sure you know by now, one of the big mandates on this ministry in this season is "multiplication." At this point, it plays a part in everything we do as we work to train, equip and deploy laborers into the harvest. In this campaign, the impact of these multiplication efforts could be felt. The whole city was reeling from the 2,862 separate outreaches that shook the region in a three-week period leading up to the campaign resulting in 350,693 documented decisions for Christ! We heard many reports from local pastors that they have been stirred and convicted by the passion of these Bootcamp evangelists – so much so that many are continuing to conduct the same kinds of outreaches after we've gone. We even heard from one major denomination in Ghana that sent representatives to learn what we are doing so that they can implement the Bootcamp outreach strategies across the entire nation.

On the last two nights, I also worked with a number of Bootcamp graduates, most of whom are now part of our leadership team, to minister to the sick. On Saturday night Roselyne Aaron, Evelina Smane, and Gary Smith, and on Sunday Jared Horton, Eliot Morgan and Macoby Donaldson ministered powerfully with signs and wonders following.

On night one, a man with severely limited mobility due to a back injury demonstrated he could now move freely, bend down and touch his toes with perfect freedom

A young man who had fallen from a tall tree (he said it was “taller than a coconut tree”) said he had been suffering with severe back pain for the last 11 years. On night two, he was totally healed. All pain is gone!

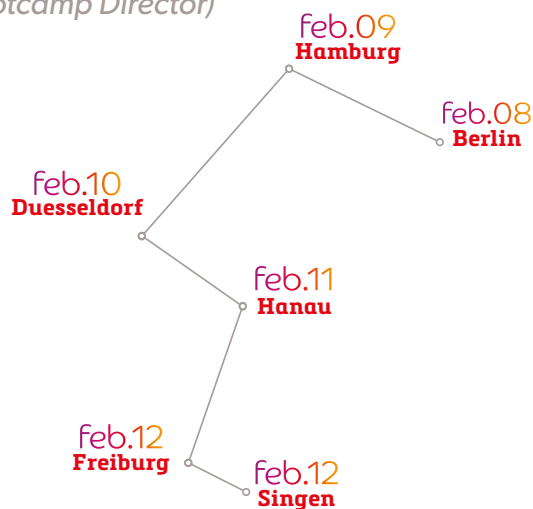

A young man fell from a great height one year ago. As a result of this accident, he had to get surgery. He showed us an X-ray of screws in his spine. He couldn't bend or turn his body from side to side. This condition affected his job. Jesus healed him on the second night of the campaign; he can now turn from side to side and bend his back.

Come and spend time in the Lord's presence with us, and be encouraged, inspired and challenged by Evangelist Levi Lutz (CfaN Bootcamp Director)
